Instructions for Authors

Scope

A peer-reviewed international journal, Cognitive Semantics (COSE) takes the relationship between meaning and mind as its central concern. It welcomes submission of unpublished research from all theoretical orientations in linguistics. It is also intended to be a forum for scholars in related fields--such as psychology, anthropology, neuroscience, artificial intelligence, philosophy, and education--to disseminate their work studying the many and varied aspects of human cognition.

Ethical and Legal Conditions

Please note that submission of an article for publication in any of Brill's journals implies that you have read and agreed to Brill's Ethical and Legal Conditions. The Ethical and Legal Conditions can be found here: brill.com/downloads/conditions.pdf.

Online Submission

Authors are now encouraged to submit their manuscript online via the Editorial Manager (EM) online submission system at editorialmanager.com/cosebrill. Online submission considerably shortens the overall time-lag from submission to publication. First-time users of EM need to register first. Go to the website and click on the "Register Now" link in the login menu. Enter the information requested.

When you register, select e-mail as your preferred method of contact. Upon successful registration, you will receive an e-mail message containing your Username and Password. If you should forget your Username and Password, click on the "Send Username/Password" link in the login section, and enter your first name, last name and email address exactly as you had entered it when you registered. Your access codes will then be e-mailed to you.

Prior to submission, authors are encouraged to read the 'Instructions for Authors'. When submitting via the website, you will be guided stepwise through the creation and uploading of the various files.

A revised document is uploaded the same way as the initial submission. The system automatically generates an electronic (PDF) file, which is then used for reviewing purposes. All correspondence, including the editor's request for revision and final decision, is sent by e-mail.

Books for review and announcements of such (including announcement of interest in writing a review) should be sent to: Ning Yu, ningyu@psu.edu.

Double-blinded Peer Review
All submitted papers will be subject to double-blinded peer review. For the purpose of reviewing the draft paper should be anonymous. No author details should be identifiable from the article itself or in the acknowledgements. The details of the author(s) should be submitted in a separate file called the title page, and include the author's name, affiliation, full postal and e-mail addresses.

Submission Requirements

Papers that are submitted for initial consideration should be complete, including all notes, bibliographical references, tables, etc. The manuscript pages should be numbered consecutively, double-spaced and with wide margins on all sides.

Use a normal, plain font (e.g., 10-point Times Roman) for text. Do not use desktop publishing features such as justification, centring, or boldface type. Use italics for emphasis. Do not hyphenate words at the end of a line. TAB should be restricted to a paragraph indent.

Language

Articles and book reviews should be written in English. Spelling (British or American) should be consistent throughout.

Unicode and Non-Roman Fonts

The Editors request the use of Unicode fonts only. For the complete list of Latin and IPA characters in Unicode: brill.com/sites/default/files/special_scripts_list_characters_latin_and_ipa.pdf.

Transliteration and Orthography

Where possible, all examples from languages not using the Latin alphabet should be transliterated using an accepted system of transliteration. Authors should use their chosen system consistently throughout the manuscript.

Where no standard system has been adopted in the literature (e.g. examples of certain dialects never described before), use symbols to represent sounds that are as close to the IPA symbols as possible, and give explanations where appropriate.

Where a transliteration system is already used in the literature, no new transliteration system invented by the author will be accepted.

For glosses the Leipzig Glossing Rules should be followed. More specific font guidelines can be found online at: brill.com/resources/authors/publishing-journals-brill/preparing-your-journal-article-manuscript.

Length

Articles should not exceed 10.000 words (general and research articles), including footnotes, references,

Citations in the Text

Long stretches of in-text references should be given in footnotes rather than in the main text. Please only give the last name of the author, the year and, if applicable, the page number(s): Breiner (1996: 158-167) or (Breiner, 1996).

In-text references to more than one author should be as follows: (Wierzbicka, 1991; Montes, 1999: 36). The full details should be given in the final section of the article, titled "References".

Figures and Tables

Figures and tables should be numbered with Arabic numerals, and cited consecutively in the text. Figures should be submitted as separate source files in .eps, .tif, or .jpg format, in a size suitable for the typesetting area of the journal. The resolution of these files should be at least 300 dpi for half-tone figures, and 600 dpi for line drawings. Number the files, and indicate in the manuscript where they are to appear (Fig. 1 here).

The text in a figure must be legible, and should not be smaller than corps 7. The size of this lettering for any text in a figure should be the same for all figures in the manuscript.

Glosses

To ensure correct alignment, all glosses must be given in table form, please follow the Leipzig Glossing rules, a description of which is given here: eva.mpg.de/lingua/pdf/Glossing-Rules.pdf.

Publication

Proofs

Upon acceptance, a PDF of the article proofs will be sent to the author by e-mail to check carefully for factual and typographic errors. In the event of a multi-authored contribution, proofs are sent to the first-named author unless otherwise requested. Authors are responsible for checking these proofs and are strongly urged to make use of the Comment & Markup toolbar to note their corrections directly on the proofs. At this stage in the production process only minor corrections are allowed. Alterations to the original manuscript at this stage will result in considerable delay in publication and, therefore, are not accepted unless charged to the author. Proofs should be returned promptly.

E-offprints

A PDF file of the article will be supplied free of charge by the publisher to the author of articles or review for personal use. Brill is a RoMEO green publisher. Authors are allowed to post the pdf post-print version of their articles on their own personal websites free of charge. This means they can show the article exactly as it appears in print.

The institute employing the author is allowed to post the post-refereed, but pre-print version of articles free of charge on its repository. The post-refereed, pre-print version means the final accepted version of the manuscript before typesetting.

Consent to Publish

Transfer of Copyright

By submitting a manuscript, the author agrees that the copyright for the article is transferred to the publisher if and when the article is accepted for publication. For that purpose the author needs to sign the Consent to Publish form, which will be sent with the first proofs of the manuscript.

Open Access

Should the author wish to publish the article in Open Access he/she can choose the Brill Open option. This allows for non-exclusive Open Access publication under a Creative Commons license in exchange for an Article Publication Charge (APC), upon signing a special Brill Open Consent to Publish Form. More information on Brill Open, Brill's Open Access Model, and the Brill Open Consent to Publish Form can be found on brill.com/brillopen.
